

I enclose the following...

- ☐ For sample newsletters (Counter-Economics: The Newsletter, New Isolationist, and The Agorist Institute Report to Supporters), current seminar announcements, and schedule of courses and events, I enclose.....$20
- ☐ For a first-edition Agorist Primer, I enclose.....$25
- ☐ For all of the above plus a year's subscription to AI Report to Supporters, I donate (tax deductible)$
- ☐ For a 4-issue subscription to The Agorist Quarterly, I enclose.....$25
- ☐ For a 6-issue subscription to Counter-Economics: The Newsletter, I enclose.....$50
- ☐ For a 6-issue subscription to New Isolationist, newsletter, I enclose.....$25
- ☐ for a total I enclose of.....$
- ☐ I am interested in attending a seminar in Introductory Agorism locally.
- ☐ I am a scholar in the field of _____ and would like a sample of AI's academic newsletter, ScholarShip.

Name _____ Degree _____ Institution (if academic) _____

Mail Address _____ Apartment/Condo Unit _____

City _____ State _____ Post/Zip Code _____

All contributions are tax deductible. Mail to Agorist Institute

The Agorist Institute

Publications & Seminars Office

(While The Agorist Institute is no longer operating as a 501c(3) non-profit corporation, some publications are still available from KoPubCo, the official publisher of the late Samuel Edward Konkin III.)

Visit KoPubCo.com for more

Publications

JOURNAL

The Agorist Quarterly. [96pp.] Volume 1, Number 1, Winter 1994, $5.95. Subscription: $25/4 issues.

NEWSLETTERS

New Isolationist [8pp], bi-monthly, $5/issue, $25/year. Began regular publication January 1992. Includes Left (Noam Chomsky, Alexander Cockburn) and Right (Thomas Fleming, Charley Reese) anti-interventionists as well as agorists such as Scott Royce, Brad Linaweaver, and James J. Martin.

Counter-Economics: The Newsletter [8pp], bi-monthly. $10/issue, $50/year. Issue #1: January 1994.

BOOKS

An Agorist Primer by Samuel Edward Konkin III (100pp), prototype edition 1987; first deluxe market edition (1994), $25. First introduction to agorist thinking for the completely uninitiated.

DOS Capital by S.E. Konkin III and J. Kent Hastings. [1995] Counter-economics computer-use with spread-spectrum radio interconnection creating the cyberagora. From columns in Counter-Economics and articles in AQ.

The Agorist Institute

The Agorist Institute

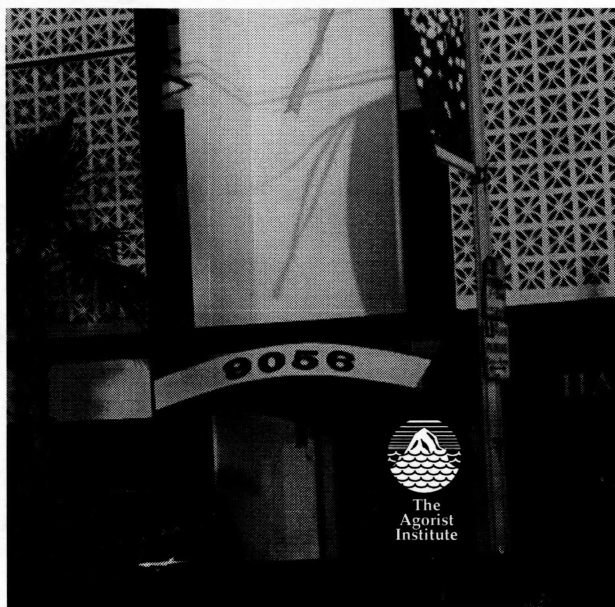

was founded December 31, 1984, to mark the end of 1984, George Orwell's nightmare social vision.

A unique program of research, study and publication of results was undertaken to explore the hitherto neglected Counter-Economy, the sum of all human action of those who did not obey, in Orwell's metaphor, Big Brother.

AI chose for its logo, the "tip of the iceberg," symbolizing that it was the legal tip aboveground observing a vastly larger underground.

Within months of its beginning, a debate began around the world between the scholars of Agorism and those of older schools. Marxists in Yugoslavia grappled with the consequences of the Agorist analysis for Communist command régimes.

By the end of the decade, economic statism was in full retreat from the English Labour Party to the Russian nomenklatura. Although other free-market-leaning institutes participated honorably and vigorously in the final clash of Command vs Market ideas, it was the proof of the Agorists that won the day: the Counter-Economic, unregulated, unpermitted collapse of the Berlin Wall.

The Agorist Institute: The Research

AI exists to study the Counter-Economy. Its priority is to keep people in the field monitoring the vast Counter-Economy, especially in North America, where statism remains entrenched and virulent — and the Counter-Economy is, in inescapable reaction — growing stronger and more all-encompassing. Many fine foundations and institutions are engaged in observing state intervention and even its effects aboveground; AI remains the only agency of scientific research into all the aspects — or, indeed, any aspects — of the Counter-Economy.

But the information gathered in must flow out in useful channels.

The Agorist Institute: Publications

AI publishes in several different modes. First and most traditionally, to reach the scholars with its findings, AI publishes The Agorist Quarterly. Here, Counter-Economic and related inter-disciplinary studies find their natural home.

The founders of AI realized that some findings would be, to put it mildly, paradigm-threatening. And thus they saw a need to get their often astonishing results into waiting hands in timely fashion. So two (so far) newsletters were created.

Counter-Economics: The Newsletter maintains a running flow of barely-processed observations and data from the Counter-Economy.

New Isolationist deals with the international dimension of the consequences of domestic statism, keeping track of the otherwise unreported or underreported foreign interventionism and the reaction and resistance overseas.

And let us not forget books. Besides putting the best of AQ and the newsletters into durable binding, AI publishes introductory texts into the agorist understanding, such as An Agorist Primer. To both disseminate through the academy and find more researchers and scholars, AI must and does engage in Education.

The Agorist Institute: Conferences

Traditional classes, innovative conferences and occasional, on-the-spot meetings have all been utilized by AI and will continue to be.

The Agorist Institute: The People

Many men and women, scholarly and literary; theoretical and practical; famous, obscure and camouflaged have participated in AI in their unique ways. Here are some, grouped to aid understanding:

Founding Advisory Board

Doug Casey

Karl Hess

Robert D. Kephart

Robert LeFevre (1911-1986)

John Pugsley

Murray N. Rothbard, Ph.D.

COMMITTEE OF SCHOLARS

Jared C. Lobdell, Ph.D., Chair

NORTHWOOD UNIVERSITY, MIDLAND, MICHIGAN

Camille Castorina, Ph.D. (Economics)

James J. Martin, Ph.D. (History)

Wendy McElroy (Psychology, Feminism, History)

Sharon Presley, Ph.D. (Psychology)

Jeff Rikkenbach (Essayist, Aesthetics)

Murray N. Rothbard, Ph.D. (Economics)

George H. Smith (Independent Philosopher)

Joseph Stromberg, Ph.D. (History)

Tony T. Warnock, Ph.D. (Numerical Analysis)

Robert Anton Wilson (Literature)

New Isolationist Regular Contributors

Noam Chomsky

Alexander Cockburn

Thomas Fleming

Brad Linaweaver

Wendy McElroy

James J. Martin

Carl Oglesby

Charles Reese

Murray N. Rothbard

E. Scott Royce

Samuel Edward Konkin III, Editor

And the rest ...Thousands of people in North America and throughout the world have contributed in introductory studies, advanced research, seminar participation, writings, readings, and donations of time, effort and money, to the discovery and understanding of the last social frontier: the Counter-Economy.

To join us, see the other side of this brochure.